

The Clover Blast

I am back!! I had a wonderful time on maternity leave with our little Pearl, but I am excited to be back in the office and planning programming for all of you!

Whether you love it or despise it, Valentine's Day is coming, and it gives us a chance to reflect on the people and programs we love and care about.

What do you love about 4-H? I love how it helped me grow into the person I am today. I owe many of my strengths and successes to the 4-H program, the project areas I explored, and the incredible leaders I had as a 4-H member right here in Campbell County.

The opportunities available to you as a 4-H member are truly endless. You can jump into the deep end and participate in activities at the county, state, and even national level—or you can start in the shallow end by focusing on just a few county projects. The choice is yours, and you can always begin small and dive deeper as you continue your 4-H journey over the years. Now is the perfect time to jump in (or jump back in)! Check out our upcoming 4-H events and activities, and make sure you're enrolled for the year. If you know a family who might be interested in joining 4-H, encourage them to sign up—we'd love to have them be part of our 4-H family.

Please reach out with any questions and watch for more information on upcoming opportunities. I'm excited to be back and can't wait to see all the great things our members will accomplish this year!

POULTRY PROJECT INFORMATION

For those 4-H families that are taking poultry projects this year, you will need to consider your goals and the type of poultry you would like to show. The timing of purchasing your birds is especially important and may have an influence on their placing at fair. It takes approximately 6 months for pullets to start laying and if this is your goal, you may want to purchase your pullets by March or early April. If you are taking a poultry meat pen, it is especially important to be diligent and research your breeds and how long it will take for a finished weight by fair. Fryer meat birds, such as Buff Orpingtons, Jersey Giants, Rangers or similar dual-purpose cockerels, will require purchasing months earlier than the big broiler breeds, such as the Cornish varieties.

Large bird meat pens, such as a, turkey, duck, or goose, take months to reach their finish weight so it is essential to research the different breeds of each species as to their mature weight. All other dual purpose and ornamental birds do not have a strict purchase date, however the more mature, birds may have a higher placing. There are also classes for your birds over a year old. These birds will have their own individual classes to enter.

ALL BIRDS ENTERED AS A MEAT PEN, MUST BE UNDER A YEAR OLD AND WEIGH AT LEAST 4 POUNDS TO BE ELIGIBLE TO SELL AT THE 4-H LIVESTOCK AUCTION. FOR THOSE WHO ARE PLANNING TO TAKE A MEAT PEN, YOU ARE REQUIRED TO BUTCHER AND PROCESS YOUR MEAT PEN FOR YOUR BUYER.

INCREASING EGG PRODUCTION

1. Birds should have at least 16 hours of lighting per day. Therefore, leaving a light bulb on throughout the winter helps promote egg-laying rather than resting. You may put your lights on a timer to regulate this.
2. Access to fresh water. Add apple cider vinegar to the water as this helps with digestion and general health. Adding garlic cloves to the water or powdered garlic to their feed to help control parasites.
3. Hens should have at least 16 percent protein once they are laying.
4. Soak scratch grains, covered with water or sour milk, overnight and in a warm location. This helps make the feed easier to digest and takes less energy.
5. Put out alfalfa hay for them to peck at and eat. This helps by giving them extra nutrients in the leaves and helps keep them active. Heads of cabbage or lettuce may also prevent boredom and discourage them from picking one another.
6. Keeping access to oyster shells will help keep your eggshells from getting soft and will help with your chicken's digestion.
7. Make sure you control mites and lice on your birds, as an infestation can cause poor health and reduced egg production. Controlling these pests is a year-round job and we know that the wild birds and rodents bring in these pests.
8. Another added nutrient is flock blocks. These blocks are available for purchase at select local feed stores. Flock blocks encourage natural pecking instincts and most contain oyster shell and grit and have optimum nutrients. They also help with boredom. Sprinkle scratch on top of the block if you have trouble getting them started pecking on the block.

Here are some suggestions, but there are many online platforms that can provide additional helpful advice.

Sheep 101

Rangeland Show Lambs would like to announce this amazing opportunity for all sheep youth.
If you're looking for an informative class from start to finish on your lamb project, these classes may be the thing for you

My Name is Kylie Davies. I am 19 Years old. I have shown sheep for the past 10 years and am the owner of Rangeland Show Lambs. I have shown a variety of breeds at many different shows. I have shown lambs in 4H, FFA and am currently a part of the Eastern Wyoming College Livestock Show team where I have shown my lambs at several national shows.

In these classes I will be covering most things needed to know from start to finish, from picking out your lamb project, what equipment is needed, fitting your lamb, showmanship and more. This is a great class for beginners, as well as those who would also like to gain more information for their own sheep programs.

Classes will be provided by
-Online/Livestream/Zoom
-In Class
-Hands On

Classes will go from February through July

The first class will be held at GAMB on February 13th @ 6pm

Club Reporting:

21 Butte: Karsyn Brady gave a report on behalf of her club. 21 Butte originated around the Savageton and Highway 50 area of our country. They have approximately 35 members and strive for 9-10 meetings a year. Their club prides themselves on being community service based, and all their members are encouraged to complete their record books each year.

Some of their community service included Blessings in a Backpack, Bell Ringers for the Salvation Army over the Holidays. Snacks and Drinks to EMTS, Meals on Wheels, and patriotic cards to our veterans. July they worked on the flowers by the Cam-Plex, they help with the Pioneer Dinner during fair and help provide deserts for Chili Bingo. Club members got to enjoy a Christmas Party at Flight Zone.

Special Requests: None

Kim and Makala:

Makala- Young Leaders will be going ice skating this month. Hunter Safety classes are coming up, and Shooting Sports began on July 12. Cupcake Wars was held while students were still on break, with six youth participating. Up next, a cake decorating class will be offered and split into two sessions. Participants will start with the basics, such as coloring frosting, and progress to more advanced decorating skills.

Project Week will take place during Spring Break, March 16–20. Several great class ideas are already in development, including Gardening and Horticulture, a Wool Class taught by Kim, Vet Science, and Quiver Building. Anyone interested in teaching a class is encouraged to contact Makala.

4-H 101 is ongoing, and Robotics meets every two weeks. Showcase Showdown will be held in June, and Robotics Wars is scheduled for May. The 4-H Fun Shoot is set for February 7. Regional Summit Leadership Training will take place in Buffalo on January 31 and is a great opportunity for teens interested in leadership development.

Hippology and Horse Judging classes are currently underway. Cloverbuds, 4-H 101, and 4-H in Wright are all up and running for the year. One change this year is that Wright will now offer one class instead of two.

Beef Ownership forms are due February 1. Mandatory weighing and tagging for market beef and Supreme Cow Phase I will be held over three different weekends in January.

Campbell County is also participating in the 250th Anniversary celebrations, with many activities planned throughout the year. The Campbell County 250 Facebook page is a great resource for staying up to date on community events.

Jody Fenster moved to adjourn the meeting and Kristi Olsen seconded; motion passed.
