JANUARY 2025

UWE SHEEP PREDATOR WEBINAR SERIES

The UWE Sheep Task Force will be hosting a series of webinars focused on sheep predation prevention and management on February 25th, March 4th and March 11th. These will cover the use of donkeys, guard dogs, and economics and available government services. These webinars will take place at 6:00 on these dates via Zoom and are open to everyone and completely free. Click the coyote to view the registration page.

WE NEED YOUR HELP! SUBLETTE COUNTY HAY QUALITY SURVEY DATABASE

The Sublette County Extension Office is seeking hay test results from producers willing to send in data from homegrown hay they have had tested for nutrients. These will remain 100% anonymous and help us understand hay quality and changes in the area to better inform producers. This will become part of a dataset to benefit ranchers seeking to understand their hay quality. If you are interested, email dmongto8@uwyo.edu or call the office at (307) 367-4380. Thanks!

PESTICIDE SAFETY EDUCATION FOR PRIVATE APPLICATORS

UW Extension will be holding four trainings in SW Wyoming for those looking to recertify or become certified to purchase restricted use pesticides for private use. This course is a free three hour video program given in person at the locations below. This will include an application with ten basic questions from the video that must be completed with 80% correct or better to receive your private applicator license to purchase restricted chemicals from weed and pest and elsewhere. This is the easiest way to complete certification. Please RSVP at the contact info below.
